CAPTAIN WILLIAM H. CADY.

Captain Cady of the Police Department, Rockville, Conn., for two years had been afflicted with an enlarsted and infiamed prostate gland, which started from the effect of a fall. He was subjected to unusual annoyance and many times was incapacitated from duty. He is known all over the State of Connecticut, and many were the susgestions given him in the hope that relief would follow. Solvent-Alterans was also brought to his attention; he was skeptical of the same, as it was said to cure in an entirely different way than other methods. He considered, however, that it was worthy of a trial, the proof of treatment appealing to his judgment. In the thirty days in which he used Solvent-Alterans he obtained a cure which remains permanent for more than a year. It is a home treatment, and the best thing about it is that it does not cause one bit of pain, can be used by any person, either old or young, with positive and permanent results.

Full particulars in regard to Solvent-Alterans are published in two nicely written books, which are distributed by mail free to all. If you are afflicted, you should send at once for these valuable books. They will tell you how to get a cure at small expense. ### SUGGESTS REVISION OF REVENUE LAWS.

Governor Dockery Sends a Message to General Assembly Bearing on Subject.

COMMISSION MAY BE NAMED

Bill Introduced Into House Providing for the Carrying Out of the Governor's Recommendations.

BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.

Jefferson City, March 4.-Governor Dockery sent to the General Assembly to-day a message discussing in some detail the fiscal situation in Missouri and advising a law to provide for the appointment of a commission to revise the revenue laws of the State as well as prompt action toward an increase in the general revenue by the passage of an exective franchise-tax law. The message was as follows:

To the Senate and House of Representatives—I respectfully invite your attention to the propriety of revising the chapter of our laws relating to the assessment and collection of revience to maintain the State Government and its various institutions.

The laws relating to assessment and taxation seem to be, in many respects, incongruous, unequal and defective.

Taxation, as required by the Constitution, should be levied upon all property in proportion to its value.

It is a matter of some doubt whether, under the excisting revenue system, this mandate of the Constitution is fully men, this mandate of the Constitution is fully men, that the agricultural wealth of our State bears an undue proportion of the expenses of government, and that corporations do not pay their just proportion. I do not care, however, to center upon a discussion of this question at this time.

It is obvious that the State requires a larger annual income to properly meet the demands upon it for the maintenance of our educational

It is covious that the State requires a larger annual income to properly meet the demands upon it for the maintenance of our educational, eleemosynary, reformatory and penal institutions. I am advised that the contemplated appropriations for the blennial period upon which we are just entering will exceed by more than $50,000 our estimated revenue.

It may be that the unpleasant duty will devolve upon me to disapprove some of the items of ap-

It may be that the unpleasant duty will devolve upon me to disapprove some of the items of appropriation in order to bring our expeditures within the estimated income.

It seems to be necessary, therefore, in some practical way, to secure additional revenue, without increasing the taxes on the farmers, laborer and other great producing classes.

I believe that it is practicable to devise a system of taxation that will equalize its burdens and give us the needed revenue, without adding burdens to either of the classes to which I have adverted—indeed, I am sure they can be lessened. Refers to Franchise-Tax Measure.

Refers to Franchise-Tax Measure.
The General Assembly is now considering bills imposing franchise taxes upon public-service corperations. I have no means of knowing what sudditional revenue will come to our Treasury by reason of the operation of a just and effective franchise law. I am approhensive, however, that the income will not be as great as some have mulcipated, inasmuch as I have recently been assumed by every member of the last State Board of Equalization that, while differing somewhat as to the amount of the franchise value, they have in fact considered the valuation of franchises of public corporations in making assessments. ments.

However this may be, I am sure that the General Assembly will, before its adjournment, place to fore stated, I have no that will be derived from a franchise law.

In connection with the suggestion that provision be made for a revision of our revenue laws, I desire also to invite attention to tome facts taken from a recent letter of the Attorney General of the State of New York to Attorney General Crow of our own State. From that communication it appears that the State of New York in 1896 enacted a law providing for the taxation of the capital stock, premiums, earnings, etc., of certain public service corporations. During the last fiscal year that State collected under this law $1,18,234.31 from Insurance, transportation, tolegraph, telephone, gas, siegrire light, water and power, and miscellaneous companies, and from license fees on foreign corporations, and deposits of foreign banks.

ations, and deposits of foreign banks. In Nature of Corporation Tax.

porations, and deposits of foreign banas.

In Nature of Corporation Tax.

These sources of income are in the nature of corporation taxes, and should not be confounded with what is known as the Ford-Roosevelt franchises are not so in the following texes upon the franchises of public corporations, similar to the bills now pending before your body. The State of New York has as yet derived no revenue from the Ford-Roosevelt franchise law, as substantially all of the corporations affected are contesting its constitutionality.

In view, therefore, of the necessity for additional income to care for our educational institutions, the poor, the blind, the deaf, the feelleminded, the insune and other unfortunate clarses of our people. I have to suggest the authorization of a commission of three persons, of whom the Attorney General shall be one, to begin their sittings, say, six months prior to the next meeting of the General Assembly, so that a fust and comprehensive system of assessment and taxation may be reported for the consideration of that body.

Any scheme of taxation that may be devised comprehensive system of ascessment and inxi-tion may be reported for the consideration of that body.

Any scheme of taxation that may be devised should be upon the basis of absolute equality to all interests and in harmony with that funda-mental doctrine requiring taxation to be levied according to the measure of prosperity the Lord has accorded us.

A. M. DOCKERY.

Provides for a Commission.
Following the reading of the message.
Representative Hackney introduced a bill in the House to carry out the recommendations it made. The measure provides for a commission of three to revise the revenue laws; one to be the Attorney General, the two others to be appointed by the Governor. The work of the commission is to be completed by April, 1903. The duties of the commission are enunciated as follows in the bill: the commission are enunciated as follows in the bill: First—They shall make a careful and com-

Senate Passes Hollins Bill.

BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.

Jefferson City, March 4.—Senate and House both met late this afternoon. In the House the entire afternoon was consumed in the discussion of the appropriation bill for contingent expenses of the State government.

The Senate to-day passed the bill of Senator Rollins providing for the selection of juries in courts not of record, like justice's and coroner's courts, in the same way as juries are chosen in Circuit Courts. The Senate also passed the bill of Senator Clay providing for reports of mine operators to State Mine Inspectors.

A number of petitions presented in the Senate to-day pleaded for the passage of the dairy bill prescribing regulations for the manufacture of oleomargarine, for the passage of an eight-hour law, of a law to prohibit the manufacture of cigarettes and cigarette wrappers, and of a law to prohibit the use of alum in food preparations.

A letter from the American Institute of Architects was read in the Senate, urging the passage of the Drabelle smoke-abatement bill. A remonstrance was presented by Senator Romp against the passage of the medical-practice bill.

The following new bills were introduced in the Assembly:

By Senator Zevely: No. 224, to provide for the construction of railroad bridges across streams whose navigable portions lie wholly within the State of Missouri.

By Representative Reinmiller: No. 639, to enable Probate Judges to issue marriage licenses instead of Recorders.

By Representative Maymard: No. 611, relating to votes on the adoption of the stock law by counties.

The committee substitute for the fish and game bills was debated at great length at the session to-night.

Some fifty amendments were proposed to the bill to relax its stringent provisions, but all were voted down.

The bill prohibits the use of dogs in hunting deer. An effort was made to amend the bill to allow the use of dogs by citizens in their home counties. When the attempt falled, Lombar of Miller moved to amend the bill by adding "providing that if any deer horn or run over any person, such person shall be allowed to kill such deer in self-defense without incurring the penalties of this act." The bill was sent to engrossment without amendment.

The House in Committee of the Whole on motion of Hawkins of Marion, cut down the appropriation granted by the House Appropriation granted by the House Appropriation Committee for the support of the State Millita from $30,000 to $10,000. The street car strike in St. Louis and the part prevents nine-tenths of the suffering incident to child-birth. The coming mother's disposition and temper remain unruffled throughout the ordeal, because this relaxing, penetrating liniment relieves the usual distress. A good-natured mother is pretty sure to have a good-natured child. The patient is kept in a strong, healthy condition, which the child also inherits. Mother's Friend takes a wife through the crisis quickly and almost painlessly. It assists in her rapid recovery, and wards off the dangers that so often follow de-
